LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Hello Visitors,

On behalf of the entire University, I am pleased to extend a sincere Rhody welcome to our campus and greater Rhode Island community! I am certain you will find URI just as welcoming as I did when I joined as president two years ago. In fact, everywhere I go, I am reminded of how incredible the people and this place truly are—Rhody pride runs deep, and I am pleased to introduce you to our diverse and vibrant community. You are visiting URI at an exciting time. We have launched our 10-year strategic plan, and we have ambitious goals to build a university of the future — one that generations of URI students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends can and will continue to be proud of.

We are Rhode Island's University, and in the next decade we will broaden our impact on the state and the world, serving as a hub for innovation and ideas. You are invited to join us and embark on your own academic journey with the resources and support of the University behind you.

We are doing great things in Little Rhody, and I invite you to explore and get to know us better.

Kind regards,

Marc Parlange

Alexa

7:50 a.m. Drive to school from our off-campus house in Galilee. Sometimes I stop at the Coffee Connection.

8:30 a.m. Work at the Campus ID and Dining Office.

11 a.m. Head to my first class, COM306 - Audio Media, where we edit audio on professional software and create our own layered soundscapes.

12:15 p.m. Go to the Student Entertainment Committee (SEC) office in Memorial Union to work my required hours, see friends, and eat my packed lunch. I'm currently President of the SEC.

2 p.m. Teaching Assistant for my favorite professor who teaches FLM 316 - 16mm Filmmaking, where students shoot everything on film stock and we send it out to get processed, then edit it digitally.

4:30 p.m. Return to the Union to do homework with friends or work more office hours.

6 p.m. Attend The Good Five Cent Cigar (student newspaper) pitch meeting. I'm the Newscast Editor. Every Monday we pitch stories for the week, and every Wednesday we stay late for our production meeting to make sure the paper is all set for its Thursday release.

8 p.m. Host my weekly radio show Hey Alexa for our school station, WRIU. It's part music, part talk show.

9 p.m. Go to the library to get some homework done.

11 p.m. Drive home and head to bed.

Rj

8 a.m. Wake up, get ready, and grab breakfast at the Brookside Bistro (usually a bagel and strawberry acai refresher) before walking to my first class.

9:30 a.m. Attend PSY 254 - Behavior Problems and Personality Disorders.

10:45 a.m. Head to the nursing building (White Hall) to study and get work done in the common lounge with friends.

12 p.m. Attend NUR 203 - Comprehensive Health Assessment Lab, where we work with partners on improving our clinical skills.

3 p.m. Grab a late lunch at Ram's Den with friends.

4 p.m. Attend CMB 201 - Introductory Medical Microbiology lecture.

4:45 p.m. Head back to my room in Brookside Hall to relax for a little, then cook dinner to bring to my overnight Emergency Medical Services (EMS) shift.

7 p.m. Arrive at EMS and work from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. the next day. We respond to calls on campus and in the town of South Kingstown for mutual aid throughout the year, 24/7!

8 p.m. Have family dinner with the overnight team and then hang out and watch a movie or show until we go to sleep.

STUDY SPOT SCOOP

Here at the University of Rhode Island, our students take studying seriously. On our beautiful 1,200 acre campus, there are plenty of favorite study spaces to choose from when you need to hit the books.

"I like to study in the Junius "Babe" Gertz Cafe in The Fascitelli Center for Advanced Engineering. The building is beautiful."

Jordana, a double major in psychology and marketing
Kenilworth, New Jersey

"The Botanical Gardens are so peaceful; and having blooming flowers and nature around you is so calming."

Stephen, a finance major
North Reading, Massachusetts

"I love studying on the third floor of Robert L. Carothers Library. It has plenty of seating options in a quiet setting and huge windows that offer great sunset views of campus!"

Ryan, a political science and public relations major
S. Kingstown, Rhode Island

"193 Coffeehouse in the Memorial Union is my favorite place to study because the ambiance and the smell of coffee make it a very cozy environment to just keep working or studying – and feeling like an academic weapon!"

Explore

RHODE ISLAND

*THERE ARE SO MANY THINGS TO DO IN RHODE ISLAND!
CHECK OUT SOME OF THESE HIGHLIGHTS.*

BE ACTIVE

Savor the views along the Newport Cliff Walk

Spend some time walking along the eastern shore of Newport on this National Recreation Trail, with stunning panoramic views of the ocean on one side, and Gilded Age mansions on the other. You can walk a short segment or the entire 3.5 miles. There are many entrances, but a great place to begin is at the western end of Easton's Beach.

175 Memorial Boulevard, Newport

Visit Roger Williams Park Zoo

Located amid 40 acres of beautiful woodlands, the RWP Zoo is home to more than 160 species of animals including a Komodo dragon, red pandas, African elephants, snow leopards, polar bears, penguins, and more! For something slightly out of the ordinary, take an exhilarating zip ride or a train excursion through the park.

1000 Elmwood Avenue, Providence

Discover Waterplace Park

This four-acre park and scenic riverwalk in Providence's downtown area features many local attractions and events such as Waterfire, outdoor music festivals, kayak tours, and river cruises.

Memorial Boulevard, Providence

Walk/bike the William C. O'Neill Bike Path

This popular, 7.8 mile, scenic, paved bike path is also called the South County Bike Trail (rail trail). It runs from Amtrak's Kingston Station parking lot to Narragansett (about a mile from Narragansett Pier).

1 Railroad Avenue, West Kingston

Experience beautiful Block Island

This scenic island about 12 miles off our coast is a popular day trip or overnight destination. Enjoy biking, hiking, boating, swimming, sampling local seafood, and scenic views. While there is a small airport, most visitors take the ferry from Point Judith or Newport.

304 Great Island Road, Narragansett

Don't miss Beavertail Lighthouse and Park

On your drive to Newport, make a pit stop in Jamestown to see Beavertail Lighthouse and Park. It's the perfect place to take in breathtaking views of the ocean, explore Rhode Island's first lighthouse, and have a picnic lunch.

Beavertail Road, Jamestown

GO SHOPPING

Visit South County Commons

Convenient to campus, the Commons Shopping Center features diverse restaurants and retailers as well as service providers, medical practices, law firms, financial services, and professional offices. There's also a hotel, apartments, eight-screen cinema, and a fitness center.

50 South County Commons Way (off of Rte. 1S), South Kingstown

Discover Wickford Village

A picture-perfect village in the town of North Kingstown, Wickford is a 15-minute drive from campus and features one of the largest collections of 18th century homes in the Northeast. Walk along the harbor, through the charming neighborhood, and visit the many eclectic shops, galleries, and restaurants.

1 Main Street, N. Kingstown

Don't miss Thames Street in Newport

Take a stroll along Newport's 1.5-mile historic thoroughfare where you'll find museums, galleries, unique local shops, picturesque marinas, incredible food, and lively nightlife. If you can, schedule some time to explore Ocean Drive by car, too. This 10-mile route is filled with breathtaking coastal views and historic landmarks.

Thames Street, Newport

Explore College Hill

This student hotspot on Providence's East Side is home to the Brown University Bookstore, an arthouse movie theater (The Avon), and numerous shops, coffee houses, and diverse restaurants. It's also a short walk to Wickenden Street in the Fox Point neighborhood and nearby India Point Park, the Providence Pedestrian Bridge, an impressive sunflower field art installation, and Plant City, a popular vegan restaurant.

Thayer Street, Providence

ENJOY ARTS & CULTURE

Stop by the South County Art Association

View exhibitions, take classes, and visit the art store right next to URI's campus.

2587 Kingstown Road, Kingston

Visit the Tomaquag Museum

One of the oldest indigenous museums in the country, Tomaquag showcases the history, culture, and arts of native peoples in New England, including the Narragansett, Niantic, Pokanoket, Wampanoag and Nipmuck. While its future home on the URI campus is under construction, visitors can explore virtual and in-person events at

390a Summit Road, Exeter

Spend an afternoon at the RISD Museum

A major cultural institution, the RISD Museum houses approximately 100,000 works of fine and decorative art ranging from ancient times to the present.

224 Benefit Street, Chace Center, Providence

Explore Slater Mill

Slater Mill, located along the Blackstone River in Pawtucket, was the first water-powered cotton mill in the US, ushering in the American Industrial Revolution. Today, you can tour the Slater Mill and museum, as well as the Wilkinson Mill.

Only in Rhody

Del's Lemonade

Del's is our classic frozen summer drink. There are many flavors to choose from, like watermelon, blueberry, and grapefruit — but lemon is the real OG. “Stop at the Sign of the Lemon” on 49 Old Tower Hill Road in Wakefield.

Seafood

Of course seafood reigns supreme in the Ocean State! Notable specialities are: Rhode Island chowder (thin, clear broth instead of creamy broth), calamari (breaded, fried squid), and clam cakes. Sample these and more at Aunt Carrie's Restaurant, 1239 Ocean Road, Narragansett.

Awful Awful

Newport Creamery began in 1928 as a wholesale dairy and now serves ice cream and diner food. Its signature drink, the Awful Awful, is a shake made with syrup and ice milk — “awful big, and awful good!” Experience it yourself at Newport Creamery, 7679 Post Road, North Kingstown.

Pizza Strips

Who knew that pizza dough topped with only a thick layer of seasoned red sauce could be so good? This unique local favorite is eaten cold and makes the perfect picnic (or anytime) snack! Grab one at Colvitto's Pizza & Bakery, 91 Point Judith Road, Narragansett.

Coffee Milk

You may have heard of strawberry milk or chocolate milk, but in the Ocean State, we add coffee syrup to our milk — and it's delicious! Stop in and sample our official state drink at Belmont Market, 600 Kingstown Road, Wakefield.

Allie's Donut Cake

There's nothing we love more than celebrating special occasions with a local staple: Allie's Donut Cake! Serving all types of homemade donuts since 1968, Allie's Donuts is a hidden gem that you'll find at 3661 Quaker Lane, North Kingstown.

CAMPUS EVENTS

From Rhody paint nights in the Union, to skate nights at Boss Ice Arena and movie nights at Meade Stadium, there's no shortage of fun events happening on our campus! See what's happening at events.uri.edu.

ART

In the URI Fine Arts Center, you'll find our Main Gallery, Project Room, and Corridor Gallery which host major art exhibitions throughout the year, as well as juried student shows, and work by faculty and visiting artists.

Current and upcoming exhibits can be found on our website at uri.edu/art/galleries.

THEATRE

Whether it's your dream to take center stage, or enjoy a theatre production from the audience, we've got you covered. Past URI theatre shows have included: A Brief History of the Earth and Everything In It, Richard III, Monty Python's SPAMALOT, Measure for Measure, and many more.

Find out more information about our current Theatre season at uri.edu/theatre/current-season.

CONCERTS

At our 8,000-seat Ryan Center Arena, you'll be able to see our Division I men's basketball team play against our rivals, laugh along with comedians like John Mulaney, dance the night away at concerts featuring Khalid, Migos, or Juice WRLD, and listen to guest lecturers like Jane Goodall.

Plan your visit to our premiere concert and sports center, the Ryan Center, at theyancenter.com.

ATHLETICS

At URI, we're proud of our school spirit and love to express it on game days! Whether you choose to play on a club or intramural team, or cheer with friends at popular Division I games, you'll know that you're part of something big.

Learn more at gorhody.com.

COMMUNITY OF BIG THINKERS

URI is a public, learner-centered, research university — a community joined in a common quest for knowledge. Our students, faculty, staff, and alumni are united in one common purpose: to learn and lead together. Embracing Rhode Island’s heritage of independent thought, these are our core values.

CREATIVITY AND SCHOLARSHIP

With the help of URI’s Launch Lab, baseball pitcher Quincy Clark ‘23, started Athletes Off The Field to showcase the creativity and entrepreneurial endeavors of URI student-athletes. Clark, a native of South Orange, New Jersey, had already launched a now flourishing resale clothing business, Campus Thrifts. This new project allowed him to expand his skills by collaborating with other creative athletes. Together, they used Launch Lab and MakerspaceURI resources to screen print clothes and market original designs. Housed in the Carothers Library and Learning Commons, these URI resources offer support for college-level entrepreneurship ideas for students in all majors.

ENGAGED LEARNING AND CIVIC INVOLVEMENT

Health Sciences major and Rhode Island native Chantel Rosario De Los Santos ‘24 joined the Army National Guard shortly after high school, and by 2020, she was deployed full-time while attending her first year of college at URI. After successfully navigating this 18-month challenge, she dove into ROTC and her studies. She chose an Accelerated Bachelor to Master’s program in Kinesiology and minored in military science and leadership. Rosario De Los Santos found inspiration and mentorship through internships and research opportunities within her major, work study with URI’s Center for Military and Veteran Education (MAVE), and membership in URI’s Student Veterans Organization (SVO). She also received the 2023 URI Student Veteran Leadership Award.

DIVERSITY, FAIRNESS, AND RESPECT

Psychology student Alexa Raudales won URI’s 2023 Graduate Student Research and Scholarship Excellence Award for distinguishing herself academically, publishing and presenting widely, and receiving a prestigious $100,000 award from the National Institute on Drug Abuse. Her strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusivity can be seen in her service within the Department of Psychology on their Inclusion and Diversity Committee; Multicultural Consultation Team; and as Chair of Students of Color, a student-run group within the department that provides resources and support for graduate students of color. She also works with the Maximizing Access to Research Careers (MARC) program to mentor underrepresented students earning degrees in biomedical research. Raudales accomplished all this while also maintaining a perfect (4.0) GPA.

INTELLECTUAL AND ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

Owen Fleischer ‘25, double major in Aquaculture and Fisheries Science and Marine Biology, was awarded the Ernest F. Hollings Scholarship from the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. From Durham, New Hampshire, Fleischer says that growing up in an outdoors-oriented family inspired his current pursuits, which include researching how predators interact with and shape their habitats. He has investigated sand tiger sharks in Delaware Bay and southern stingrays in the Cayman Islands. Explore our 153 acre Narragansett Bay Campus, home of the Coastal Institute and Graduate School of Oceanography.

RHODY PRIDE

Rhody Pride is how we represent and celebrate our community, diversity, and 150-year collegiate history. It's one of the ways we think bigger than ourselves. Try some of the activities below, and you'll start to learn what it means to be part of our Family.

RHODY THE RAM

ALUMNI FAMILY WEEKEND

This fun-filled event in October is URI's homecoming and family weekend, when alumni, students, families, and friends gather to enjoy the beauty of campus in the fall and show their Rhody pride. Cheer at the homecoming game and participate in a host of exciting events around campus.

OOZEBALL

Each year, on a Sunday in April, the Plains Road Lot is plowed by local farmers and drenched by the Kingston Fire Department for Oozeball — our traditional mud volleyball tournament. Watch for free or join the hundreds of teams and thousands of students and alumni who set, spike, slip, and slide their way to victory.

COMMENCEMENT

The ultimate celebration — each year in May we recognize the tremendous accomplishments of our undergraduates and graduate students, families, faculty, and staff. Last year's class represented 41 states, 31 countries, and included 49 military veterans, 7 sets of twins, and one mother-daughter combo who proudly walked across our stage!"

SHOW YOUR RHODY PRIDE!

Look the part, get the gear, and put the "RI" in Pride! Shop online at ramszone.uri.edu or in the campus store!

Cross Rhode

Across

4. URI's 8,000-seat arena which hosts many sporting events, concerts, and performances.
8. URI's mascot since 1923, and a tribute to our agricultural history.
10. Two-wheel commuters can use this connector to travel from campus to Wakefield, Peace Dale, and Narragansett.
12. Annual tournament at URI; fields are plowed by local farmers and drenched in water by the Kingston Fire Department.
13. A Rhode Island homemade ice cream staple with locations in Wakefield and Narragansett.
14. This Hall is home to URI's Academic Enhancement Center, Writing Center, Academic Advising, and Center for Career and Experiential Education. Named after this former First Lady.
15. 3,500 inscribed alumni bricks make up this pathway across the quad.
19. Village in South Kingstown, Rhode Island; home to URI's main campus.

Answers on p. 30.

Down

1. URI "Runs on" this with five locations on our main Kingston campus.
2. The iconic stone structure in Narragansett that spans Ocean Road.
3. Former men's basketball coach; created the fast break which landed him in the Basketball Hall of Fame; URI specific shade of blue.
5. Only 15 minutes from campus, this is the closest beach to URI; The University of Rhode Island occupies the traditional homelands of this Indian Tribe.
6. Affectionate nickname for the bite-sized chicken nuggets served at Butterfield Dining Hall.
7. Outdoor gathering place for URI's campus community; designed by the Olmsted Brothers who were the masterminds behind Central Park in 1857.
9. URI's newest President, who is also a Rhode Island native.
11. Professor of oceanography at URI who discovered the Titanic; alliterative name.
16. Technically considered "off campus," it's a two-minute walk from the Quad where you'll find bagels, Chinese, Thai, and Mexican as some of the food options for a quick bite to eat.
17. Located in Wakefield, this Tavern is a fan favorite of URI students, staff, and faculty.
18. We're Rhode Island _____, and we're Rhode Island bred, and when we die, we'll be Rhode Island dead! So, go go Rhode Island, Island! So go, go Rhode Island, Island! Go Rhode Island, U - R - !!
